WILL SALLY FORTH TO CLEANSE EUROPE OF GANGSTER RULE

Sir Archibald Sinclair Sounds Notes of Confidence And Caution Against Slackening of Effort—Government Promises Lifting of All Emergency Restrictions When Peace Comes

LONDON, Aug. 21 (P).—Sir Archibald Sinclair, Great Britain's Air Secretary, predicted tonight that Britons, "aided by our Dominions and Allies," eventually will "sally forth" from this island fortress and "cleanse" Europe of "gangster rule." He made this prediction during a broadcast in which he pledged the Government's word to safeguard "a free Parliament and a free press" and to lift all emergency restrictions "with the advent of victory and peace."

"Only a handful" of Royal Air Force men, he said, "stand between Hitler and domination of the world."

Warning that danger of invasion or of massed air attack is not yet past, Sir Archibald said that since August 8 Britain lost both in home defence and "in our extensive operations over Germany, 194 aircraft against the Germans' 709."

THE SOLE OBSTACLE
Britain, he said, now is facing the might of 120,000 German and Italian tanks and "the main and sole obstacle to the achievement of Hitler's aims and those of his Sancho Panza, Mussolini, is we are the target of their concentrated attack."

Announcing that he had a message from the Prime Minister, Mr. Chamberlain, he said that the Government is determined to keep out of war with Italy unless directly attacked or invaded.

After a four-hour debate on war policy in the Chamber of Deputies, Premier Hassan Sabry Pasha told the press that Egypt "harbors no ill will against anybody," but added she will "declare war if her territory or her army is the subject of an attack."

Premier Hassan Sabry Pasha told the deputies "Nothing has developed to change the Government's policy" of watchful neutrality unless Egypt is directly invaded and attacked.

The Premier's answer brought an immediate demand for a debate on war policy and Government deputies demanded the proceedings be made secret.

ITALIAN TROOPS MOVED
Marshal Rodolfo Graziani shifted concentrations of Italian troops to-day around the Bardia base, thirty miles from the Egyptian-Libyan frontier, again threatening the long-awaited drive into Egypt.

Recent movements observed by British patrols were believed intended to refill big gaps ripped in the British naval base, and communication lines by the British naval base of August 17 and to reinforce and reform Italian lines before undertaking the assault.

British forces, sticking to their "active defence" policy, have made no move to advance into Libya. The R.A.F. heavily bombed enemy bases in Ethiopia.

LITTLE INCIDENT
The three-day numbering of the people was almost without incident. Near Drummondville, Que., a bridge leading to a schoolhouse, where registration was to be held, was blown up. Reports of thefts of registration identification cards in Montreal were minimized by police.

The War Services Department, however, took occasion to issue a warning that after registration had taken place there would be a check-up to see that identification cards matched questionnaires on file. The penalty for false possession of a card runs from six months to three years in the penitentiary.

From the Far North, where the "mossman telegraph" was used to carry the word and the registration forms into the remote wilderness, to the heart of the large industrial centres, more than 200,000 volunteers, churches, service clubs, fraternal associations and individuals gave their services to show, as Mr. Davis put it, that democracy was quite as able as autocracy in a national effort.

Germany Will Not Guarantee Safe Conduct
BERLIN, Aug. 21 (P).—D.N.B.—The German news and propaganda agency, said tonight that Germany "is unable" to guarantee safe conduct for vessels carrying children out of war zones. D.N.B. was commenting on United States proposals to amend the neutrality law to permit American ships to carry British children westward.

D.N.B. added that the United States move "isn't practical because it assumes all warring nations would guarantee the security of such vessels."

REGISTRATION IS COMPLETED
Total of 8,000,000 Estimated on the Rolls in Dominion

OTTAWA, Aug. 21 (P).—The three-day national registration of Canada's human resources ended tonight. Officials believed some 8,000,000 men and women, sixteen years of age and over, scattered across the Dominion, had registered since general registration started Monday.

Registration booths across Canada were to close at 10 o'clock local time, tonight, although Mr. Justice T. O. Davis, assistant deputy minister of war services, said it might be necessary for some scattered booths to remain open longer to clean up the final rush. There was no prospect of reopening booths tomorrow.

STILL AT LARGE
The two escaped prisoners, Lieut. Werner Koche, twenty-eight, who tunneled his way out of a Northern Ontario internment camp, and an unidentified inmate who escaped from a camp in a remote area in Northwestern Ontario, were still at large tonight.

Colonel Ralston said he was satisfied that Koche's escape was an inside job, and that he was not aided by fifth columnists. There was no suggestion he had aid from any one in the camp.

SOMEWHERE IN ONTARIO
Aug. 21 (P).—Police said tonight that investigation into the escape of a German prisoner from an internment camp in Northern Ontario will lead to disclosures of fifth column activities throughout Canada.

These police officials said they believed that the escaped Nazi was aided by the escaped Nazi lieutenant, Werner Koche, who has been picked as a key man in the camp.

Army Prepared for Invaders If They Ever Get Past Navy and Air Force—Fifth Columnists Are Being Rounded Up

TORONTO, Aug. 21 (P).—Sixty-seven members of the Canadian Active Service Force returned from England because of sickness, wounds or disabilities arrived in Toronto tonight. They were greeted by joyous wives, children and relatives.

"Jerry never will set foot in England," said Corporal Michael McLean, a Toronto Highlander. "If he does, he'll get the besting of his life. The army is prepared, after the navy and air force get their crack at him. You'd be really surprised at what they've done over there to get ready."

Two dozen of the returning soldiers were veterans of the first Great War. Majority of the older men admitted that old complaints had finally caught up with them.

"But it was the weather, not the war," one of them said.

PREDICT CLASH IN SHORT TIME
Italian Press Becomes Increasingly Violent in Campaign Against Greece

ROME, Aug. 21 (P).—A "Clash" between Italy and Greece in the "near future" was predicted tonight by the Italian wireless, while the Fascist press campaign against that little pro-British kingdom reached a new crescendo of violence.

The wireless cited the "sharp tone" of that very campaign as indicating a showdown was approaching, and remarked that this was the pre-emption in "political quarters."

The newspapers published assertions that Greeks were planning to burn Albanian villages in the Greek region of Ciamuria—a region now declared by Italy to be rightfully part of Fascist-held Albania—and that armed bands were ready, "especially in the event of complications," to massacre the inhabitants.

Greece was accused of acting as "more or less voluntary provoking agent on behalf of Britain."

Quoting Virginia Gayda, one of Italy's main journalistic spokesmen, the wireless said that a "final solution" would concern not alone the province of Ciamuria "but also parts of the region of Janina."

British Bombers Hit Hard

This map shows where British airmen have been striking at factory centres in widespread areas in Germany and Italy. Areas bombed: (1) Factory centres of Lünen and Grevenbroich; (2) airplane plants at Dessau and Bernburg; (3) bombings near Berlin; (4) Alessandria, Milan and Tortona, reported by Italians to have been bombed.

Armored Brigade Is Authorized by The Government

Defence Minister J. L. Ralston Announces Major Development for Canadian Army—Tank Brigade Will Be Commanded by Col. F. F. Worthington—Plans Early Production

OTTAWA, Aug. 21 (P).—A Canadian armored brigade—possible forerunner of a whole division of tanks and other armored vehicles—has been authorized by the Government. Defence Minister J. L. Ralston announced this major development today. Early production of tanks is looked for, he said. Manufacture will be speeded by substantial use of commercial standardized parts.

The minister expressed hope the brigade might grow into a division. The step authorizing the mechanized brigade was taken upon the advice of Chief of the General Staff, General H. D. G. Crerar, and Lieut. Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton.

The move toward greater mechanization, increasing the mobility and striking power of Canadian forces, was announced simultaneously with Col. Ralston's statement that from August 8 to 19 the man power of the army and militia had increased by nearly 40,000 men. During that period 7,865 men enlisted in the Canadian Active Service Force and 31,382 in the Non-Permanent Active Militia.

OVERSTRENGTH UNIT
Formation of the tank brigade, under Col. F. F. Worthington, an enthusiast for mechanization, will provide for an overstrength C.A.S.F. unit, backed by a similar force of N.P.A.M. battalions, who will be given special training (N.P.A.M. trainees are not overseas troops).

Personnel for the tank brigade will be drawn from the Ontario Regiment, Ontario, the Three Rivers Regiment, Three Rivers, the 1st Canadian Cavalry Regiment, London.

Last of 2,000 Evacuees Leave Eastern Port In Two Trains

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, Aug. 22 (P).—A trainload of sleepy-eyed youngsters rolled away from the dockside here early today, bearing almost the last of the arrivals in the group of child evacuees that came to this port two days ago.

Seven hundred and twelve of the children were moved ashore from their ships, passed through immigration formalities and entrained during the night. They formed part of a group of 2,000 Government-sponsored travelers that made up the greatest sea exodus of children in history.

Two trains carried them out, one leaving late last night and the other following it after midnight.

Of the twenty-eight conductors aboard the last arriving ship, three were Canadians. They were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bryant and Mrs. MacGillivray, who were going through to Victoria.

The Rumanian delegates, summoned to Bucharest after their leader conferred with King Carol, were expected to return Friday night to resume discussions with the Hungarians, who have demanded as much as two-thirds of Transylvania.

ONLY TOWN SESSION
The Rumanians so far have held out for a transfer of population, with only a token session of a small strip of territory.

At nearly Craiova, Rumanian and Bulgarian negotiations were speeding toward quick agreement on the final details of the transfer of Southern Dobruja to Bulgaria, which lost the province in the Balkan war.

Transfer of Rumanian population from the district is under way, and observers reported the last technicalities of the transfer of the territory should be ironed out within ten days.

From Europe Day by Day

THE TIMES, London
News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1940, by Southam Co.)
LONDON, Aug. 21 (By Cable).—Delivered with authority of frank appraisal and balanced judgment, Churchill's speech on Tuesday encouraged the Commons to feel that secure confidence which comes only when all the facts are faced, says The Times, by the fact that the unbroken shore of Europe opposite our coast is wholly in hostile hands; that ceaseless preparation are proceeding throughout its length, and an assault on our vital centres may be delivered at any moment. But, these menaces do not one now that they are realities. We have the answers to any threat of invasion by air or sea.

The Times Cairo correspondent says that the British Somaliland withdrawal has aroused little interest or comment in Egypt. At no time has Egypt paid particular attention to Somaliland, East African Kenya or even the Sudan front, knowing they are all "sideshows."

The Egyptians feel that as long as Britain retains command of the sea and air the only front that really matters is the Libyan, as Egypt is the key to the Eastern Mediterranean, Suez, Red Sea and the East.

The Times correspondent on the Italian frontier says it is predicted in authoritative quarters that now that Italy has sufficient jumping-off bases Aden would be attacked as soon as necessary preparations are completed. Operations are expected to open with a large scale bombing attack in which waves of Italian planes would raid Aden defences.

Offensives against Sudan, Kenya and perhaps Suez also are expected to be speeded up.

The Times Peking correspondent reports an attack on Germany by the Japanese controlled press. One paper says "Germany has done nothing beneficial to China. We don't wish to offer felicitations on her victory in advance."

Whether Britain or Germany is victorious it has nothing to do with the Asiatic races. The Chinese press is confidently predicting Britain's early downfall.

The Times Hongkong correspondent says the Chinese reports are that the French attitude over Japanese claims in Indo-China is stiffening. More French warships have arrived, presumably from Africa, and include heavy cruisers.

SEEK SOLUTION TO LAND CLAIM
Settlement of Transylvanian And Dobrujan Disputes Expected Soon

TURNU-SEVERIN, Rumania, Aug. 22 (P).—Rumanian military experts and statisticians conferring with Hungarian delegates on the Transylvanian problem were called back to Bucharest last night, giving rise to reports a new compromise plan had been worked out to save the conference from collapse.

This belief was strengthened by the disclosure Helmut Lann, attaché of the German Foreign Office, was sent to Turnu-Severin as an official observer, reflecting Nazi impatience with delays in coming to agreement over the disputed territory.

The Rumanian delegates, summoned to Bucharest after their leader conferred with King Carol, were expected to return Friday night to resume discussions with the Hungarians, who have demanded as much as two-thirds of Transylvania.

Britain Has Helped Spain With Supply Of Needed Wheat

LONDON, Aug. 21 (P).—A spokesman of the Economic War Committee today declared that Great Britain has supplied wheat to Spain to help her in her difficulties, the British Broadcasting Corporation reported. Ground crews extinguished seven other blazes.

Supervisor G. M. Brundborg said tonight the work of the parachutists was "the bright spot on a very dark picture."

Method of Guarding Canada's War Prisoners to Be Changed Now

OTTAWA, Aug. 21 (P).—As a consequence of the escape of two prisoners from internment camps, the method of guarding Canada's 8,000 war prisoners and internees will be changed.

Rather than do sentry-go, leaving prisoners much to themselves in camp compounds, guards hereafter will walk among the prisoners thus more closely to observe their actions.

The announcement was included in the statement of Defence Minister J. L. Ralston at a press conference today, that he favored this "police work" method of dealing with prisoners as well as fifth columnists, as against having guards march up and down on a regular beat.

REGISTRAR HAS NO COMPLAINTS

Total of 7,279 Get Certificates in Nanaimo—Many Guns Registered

NANAIMO, Aug. 21.—Approximately 7,279 persons visited the fourteen registration booths in the Nanaimo national registration district during the three-day period, which ended at 10 o'clock tonight.

Little or no trouble was experienced by the registrar in obtaining answers to the questions asked from the people registering, but Registrar H. Hope stated that particular cooperation was given by the Chinese of the city and district. Upwards of 300 Chinese registered and interpreters were provided; the registrants ushered to the booths and all explanations made by English-speaking Chinese, who proved a great help to the registrars. A total of sixty-six Japanese were registered.

The heaviest list of applicants was on Monday, the number falling off the second day, and the third day most deputies were idle much of the time.

GUNS REGISTERED

Provincial Police office reported 200 persons had registered their guns during the past three days here. As some possessed more than one gun, it is estimated that approximately 400 guns had been registered. Blanks were all used, and gun registration, which is to continue until September 15, cannot be completed until forms are obtained. Police are reminding all registrants that after September 15, a police permit must be obtained before any person can buy or sell a gun of any description.

alive who had sought shelter in basements and were trapped.

"I saw a bomber sweep down from the clouds," one witness related. "It had its engines shut off and as it dived I saw a huge black bomb shaped like a torpedo leave the plane. As the torpedo dropped the plane seemed to shoot up into the air as though after releasing a heavy load."

The witness said the explosion "shook the whole town." Its crater measured more than thirty feet long. Customarily aerial torpedoes are launched at sea from planes diving close to their targets.

Another raider splattered a southwestern town with six bombs which killed one man in a garden, smashed a row of stores, and wrecked an empty school air raid shelter. In one residential area a short attack was made on the inhabitants by machine gun fire.

CAPTURED BY FARM WORKERS

One bomber fell in flames at a southeast village and its crew of three landed by parachute three miles away. Two flyers gave themselves up to farm workers. The third was captured by a farmer's wife and her fourteen-year-old son, who carried his father's home guard rifle.

In a communiqué issued last night, the Air Ministry said that in daylight raids the R.A.F. attacked air-dromes in enemy-occupied territory. Owing to adverse weather conditions no bombing operations were carried out over Germany Tuesday night.

It was disclosed also that aircraft of the R.A.F. Coastal Command had bombed two German destroyers in the North Sea yesterday, damaging one and suffering no loss themselves.

An Air Ministry bulletin describing the fight said:

"A Hudson aircraft of the R.A.F. Coastal Command after making a dive-bombing attack on two enemy ships in the North Sea yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon encountered seven enemy fighters which were attacking the ships. A running fight ensued in which one enemy fighter was shot down into the sea. Our aircraft, though damaged, landed safely."

TWO OF CREW WOUNDED

The Hudson was hit by machine-gun fire and cannon shells and two members of the crew were wounded.

"The pilot skidded the sea surface during most of the fight, manœuvring his aircraft so that all its guns were brought into action in turn as Messerschmitts assailed him," the Air Ministry said.

German planes stabbed at Britain today in "hit-and-run" raids over England and Wales. Airmen completed the forms. A similar condition existed at the Women's Institute Hall, West Saanich, which served the vacationers from Brentwood Bay today. The Ladies' Hall Community Hall on Quadra Street had another active day, while men of the non-permanent active militia were given the opportunity of registering at the Royal Oak Municipal Hall.

Members of the Saanich nursing staff, assisted by volunteers, visited almost all the invalids in the municipality.

On behalf of William Dwyer, registrar for the Nanaimo Federal riding, Mr. Greene expressed his thanks to all the volunteers who assisted in the registration. Through the cooperation of the public, an apparently difficult task had been made a pleasant one, Mr. Greene added.

NANAIMO RIDING

Mr. Dwyer stated last night that registrations in the Nanaimo riding had been carried out in a very satisfactory manner. Owing to the wide area covered by the riding, he said, the exact number of persons registered would not be available for several days, but he added that advance reports indicated it would exceed 45,000.

The importance of returning all official papers to him was stressed by Mr. Dwyer last night. All deputy registrars are asked to return these as soon as possible.

National Stocktaking in Victoria Commenced by Local M.P.

SAANICH REGISTRANTS ESTIMATED AT 13,000

When the national war stock-taking closed last night at 10 o'clock, nearly 44,000 Victorians had answered the required questionnaire and received their registration cards, according to estimates made by registration officials.

This is 4,000 more than the pre-registration estimate of those above sixteen years of age in the Victoria riding, and illustrates a notable growth in the population since the last census. This growth was indicated at the March elections when the voters' list jumped by about 6,000 to over the 35,000 mark.

Compared with the rush of the previous two days, registration at the twenty-four centres throughout the riding was slowed down somewhat yesterday. Approximately 5,000 persons went to the booths between the specified hours of 8 a.m. and 10 p.m.

A total of 6,000 registrations were made under the advance plan for large businesses and institutions, so that no fewer than 38,000 went personally to the various centres to put down their qualifications for the national war effort.

MARKED BY SMOOTHNESS

Sydney Child, registrar, said last night that the citizens had responded to the Government's call in an splendid manner and the whole registration process had been marked by smoothness and co-operation on the part of both public and volunteer workers. He expressed the belief that the registration had been as near to 100 per cent as possible, allowing for people unable to register through illness or absence from the city.

As far as the local registration machinery is concerned the job is now finished, officials said. Any who are not registered will have to "make their peace" with the postmaster, where future registrations will be made. Regulations provide penalties for anyone who has failed to register.

R. W. MAYHEW THANKS PUBLIC

R. W. Mayhew, M.P., who was responsible for supervision of the registration machinery set up in his riding, spent most of yesterday visiting the various registration centres to express his personal thanks and those of the Government to volunteer workers and the public for the effective handling of the local war census.

He stressed the good fellowship that had brought so many willing volunteers, and commended the response made by the general public. The readiness of Victorians to assist had shown a patriotic desire on the part of the citizens to give their services to Canada in an emergency, Mr. Mayhew declared.

Registration officials worked late last night at headquarters on Fort Street tabulating returns being brought in from the different centres. Exact figures on the Victoria registration should be available today, Mr. Child said.

Deputy registrars are asked to return their appointment papers to the headquarters office as soon as possible.

SAANICH TALLY

Some 13,000 persons over sixteen years of age were registered in Saanich Municipality during the past three days, Wilfred A. Greene, municipal clerk, reported last night. Although the total is not quite so high as was expected, Mr. Greene said many Saanich residents were employed in the city and were consequently registered there by their firms.

Yesterday approximately 2,500 residents filled out the questionnaires, and 3,500 were registered on Tuesday. One of the largest polls was at Maynard's Auto Camp, where many of the Cordova Bay campers completed the forms. A similar condition existed at the Women's Institute Hall, West Saanich, which served the vacationers from Brentwood Bay today. The Ladies' Hall Community Hall on Quadra Street had another active day, while men of the non-permanent active militia were given the opportunity of registering at the Royal Oak Municipal Hall.

Members of the Saanich nursing staff, assisted by volunteers, visited almost all the invalids in the municipality.

On behalf of William Dwyer, registrar for the Nanaimo Federal riding, Mr. Greene expressed his thanks to all the volunteers who assisted in the registration. Through the cooperation of the public, an apparently difficult task had been made a pleasant one, Mr. Greene added.

NANAIMO RIDING

Mr. Dwyer stated last night that registrations in the Nanaimo riding had been carried out in a very satisfactory manner. Owing to the wide area covered by the riding, he said, the exact number of persons registered would not be available for several days, but he added that advance reports indicated it would exceed 45,000.

The importance of returning all official papers to him was stressed by Mr. Dwyer last night. All deputy registrars are asked to return these as soon as possible.

FINDING OF BODY SOLVES MYSTERY

Alfred H. Knott, Who Wandered From Home a Month Ago, Died From Exhaustion

The body of Alfred Henry Knott, eighty-seven, who had been missing from his home at Colwood since July 20, was found near Pike Lake, fifteen miles distant, yesterday. Mr. Knott evidently died from exhaustion, having wandered through the bush to a point 200 yards from an occupied house. He had lain down and died as it in sleep.

Resplendent in His New Uniform

BERLIN, Aug. 21 (C.P.).—Herman Wilhelm Goering has done the impossible—he's outstripped himself in his new Reichsmarshal uniform.

A new picture of the plump Herman shows him in a cloud-grey cape and tunic with gold trimmings, as opposed to the usual bluish air uniform.

His cap carries the gold flying eagle of the air force on the peak. The chin strap is gold. Around the entire band of the hat is a gold-stitched laurel wreath.

AN INDISPENSABLE WEAPON

Mr. Churchill's unequivocal declaration that the British blockade will be maintained against Germany and Italy, and against all enemy-occupied countries, should finally quell—although it will not—the propaganda about whole populations facing famine, a conception engineered by Berlin. The Prime Minister says, as is obvious, that the task of looking after the economic welfare of peoples conquered belongs to the conqueror. If this is beyond the power of Germany, then she should not have engaged in wanton aggression. That aggression was devised for her own Lebensraum, as was stated so often. She has now more living room, more countries with which she is insuring that she alone will trade. She directs their destinies politically, and that implies that it is her duty to look after their economic welfare. To the extent that she is handicapped in doing this, because she invoked war by wanton aggression, that is her own business.

For hundreds of years blockade has been regarded as a major and indispensable weapon in warfare. Germany herself has maintained, over and over again, that she is blockading the British Isles. She is attempting to do so by submarine and aerial bombing, with what success the world knows. Great Britain, on her part, is blockading the enemy by her sea power, but is not whining because of any means employed by Germany with the same purpose in view. Blockade in warfare is a means to the end of victory. Its use, says The Economist, "is based upon the enemy's lack of materials which his war industries and fighting forces need—metals, alloys, textiles, rubber, vegetable oils, animal feeding stuffs, fertilizers and oil. The index of striking power in modern war is power to produce, and the question now is whether Germany's conquests have yielded supplies of the basic materials of production to make up her former deficiencies."

The same authority says that the Europe that Germany now controls is potentially weak off in foodstuffs than Germany was before her conquests, because "normally Europe is a net importer of all the basic foodstuffs except potatoes." The invaders have captured stocks of food, oil, war equipment and raw materials, as well as scrap of all kinds. These, The Economist describes, as "short time gains" because they cannot be replaced through European production. In one direction the blockade has been made more effective by German conquests, because before very large supplies were going into the Third Reich through formerly neutral countries now occupied by the enemy. Many rans which existed in the blockade have now been closed. The Economist then says:

"At bottom it is a simple strategic problem. So long as the British Navy commands the Atlantic sea routes, the Mediterranean approaches, the Western Mediterranean and the Levant, Hitler's military successes make very little difference to the pattern of economic warfare, unless they lead to decisive changes at sea. As Napoleon found, the British blockade cannot be beaten on land. The final question then is: Has the strategic position at sea been altered? The proof of the pudding will be in the eating. It remains to be seen whether the Axis Powers can effect any decisive change in the balance of power at sea. There is nothing to suggest that they can. German submarines and bombers have so far failed to disturb the carrying out of the Navy's daily duties. The Italian Navy has shown no confidence in its power to wrest supremacy in the Mediterranean from the British. Tactically Germany, with more ports and bases, is better off than she was. Strategically, she has made no advance, unless she can turn the British Isles by invading and subjugating the British Isles themselves or by isolating them, cutting off vital supplies by sinking ships and blockading ports. Germany cannot beat the blockade. She can only try to defeat the blockaders."

NO CANADIAN RACE

Some people were surprised, and not a few indignant, in discovering, during the registration, that there is no such thing as a Canadian race. Knowledge on this point, however, is of the kindergarten variety. People were asked during registration what was their racial origin, not what was their nationality, and it was clearly explained in the instructions issued to the registrars that "the word 'Canadian' does not denote a racial origin, but a nationality, and the same applies to the word 'American'." The fact is a self-evident one, that all those who are Canadians trace their racial origin, no matter how far back, to other lands. It is doubtful even if the Indian tribes, or any of them, could be described as a Canadian race; the Eskimos alone are perhaps the nearest approach to this, if there is such a thing.

The Globe and Mail, of Toronto, points out that "primary races are those major divisions of mankind which acquired, in a remote past, certain distinctive characters, physical and mental, transmitted by inheritance and that alone. Race accordingly denotes breed; hence language, religion and other incidents of the social environment can never be a test of race." That newspaper believes that, in order to avoid confusion, it would have been better if the question asked had dealt with ancestry instead of race. As it was, it confused a great number of persons, and some were disposed to answer it by stating their color. The Globe and Mail says, too: "This question of a Canadian race crops up every census year and has been widely discussed at ten-year intervals. For census purposes it is important to know what class of people dwell in or are coming to Canada. To what extent is the country being populated by other than those of British ethnological background. This is part of the information sought by the registration of Canada's man power. How many 'racial' divisions are there, and what is the strength of each? At all times—but especially now—this is of prime importance. Nationality is different from race, but racial origin has become the method of tracing back—through the male—the ethnological origin of any country's population. Hence, Canadians should not be annoyed on discovering that they do not constitute a definite 'race'."

LAX DISCIPLINE

A dispatch from that fatuous "Somewhere"—this time in Ontario—telling of the escape of a German prisoner leaves a lot to the imagination. He is described as a Nazi naval lieutenant, but it is not said if he was a prisoner of war or an internee. In the event of his having been the former, he had only been in the country for a few months, and obviously in that time was a fast worker. Only the minimum of supervision could have been exercised over him, when in the brief period at his disposal he was able to build a 100-foot tunnel, line it with timber and make it large enough for the egress of a human body. It may be that he got assistance from his fellow-victims of the war, or from workmen engaged at the internment camp. If the former was the case, the laxity of the supervision exercised becomes all the more apparent. If workmen gave him assistance, then the authorities must have engaged German sympathizers for employment on a governmental contract.

There is yet another perplexing aspect in the dispatch from "Somewhere". It does not seem to have been known at first what was the identity of the man who escaped. A wrong description was given to the searchers, which indicated there was another man missing, who turned up subsequently. Apparently, therefore, at this internment camp, men are allowed to go their own ways at intervals. The happening calls for a rigid examination, and, obviously, far more protective precautions than now appear to be exercised. Considering the large number of alien enemies in this country, and the fact of how little the Government has done to restrict their activities, there will be repeated attempts to co-operate in freeing those held in internment camps.

Mr. Churchill's speeches since he became Prime Minister should be read and re-read as an inspiration to war effort. They should be preserved in book form, to be added to as occasion arises. Such a record would prove a best seller and could be used as one of the many ways employed for raising funds for patriotic purposes. His is the lyric voice of the War.

In paying tribute to the prowess and devotion of the Royal Air Force fighters, Mr. Winston Churchill said in Parliament on Tuesday: "Never in the field of human conflict was so much owed by so many to so few." This epitomizes all that has been said about those gallant and indomitable airmen.

I STOOD TIPTOE

I stood tiptoe upon a little hill,
The air was cooling and so very still.
That sweet buds, which with a modest pride
Puff droopingly, in slanting curves aside,
Their scanty-leaved and finely-tapered stems,
Hid not yet lost their starry glimmers,
Caught from the early sobbing of the morn.
The clouds were pure and white as flocks
New shorn
And fresh from the clear brook; sweetly they Slept
On the blue fields of heaven, and then there crept
A little noiseless noise among the leaves,
Born of the very high that silence heaves;
For not the faintest motion could be seen
Of all the shades that slanted over the green.
—Keats.

THE BREASTPLATE

I bind unto myself today
The power of God to hold, and lead,
His eye to watch, His might to stay,
His ear to hear, His word to lead,
The wisdom of my God to teach,
His hand to guide, His shield to ward;
The Word of God to give me speech,
His heavenly host to be my guard.
—Cecil Frances Alexander.

It is with narrow-souled people as with narrow-necked bottles—the less they have in them the more noise they make in pouring it out.—Pope.

New Flag Needed

We noticed another torn and tattered Union Jack flying over premises on Yates Street.

Instead of telling us how to live to be 100 years of age it might be better for health experts to tell us why. . . . Cecil B. de Mille was recently quoted in an interview: "Tomato-mouthed blondes who wear slacks and paint their nails a gruesome red are a nuisance in Hollywood or anywhere else. . . . According to a neighbor, to be a good father today a man is not supposed to strike his children, except in self-defence."

The old poem comes in handy when thinking of Defence of Canada Regulations. "If your lips would keep from smirking, five things observe with care; of whom you speak, to whom you speak, and how and when and where. . . . A modern meal—if one is not enough open up another tin. . . . Golfers are not as a rule moveable else. . . . The reverse holds. . . . If Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin were the only passengers aboard a vessel on fire and rapidly sinking in mid-ocean, who would be saved. Answer—Europe. . . . According to a paper from across the border, Goering recently appeared in a raincoat and Cellophane. Like wildfire the rumor spread through-out Naziland. Goering is wearing Cellophane to give Germans a glimpse of the only piece of fat left in Germany.—G.B.

Olds and Ends

Norman Cox, veteran swimming coach, now a resident of Vancouver, is probably one of the first instructors ever to teach his proteges by air mail. For the past fifteen months Cox, in collaboration with a friend at Edmonton, has directed the physical culture, water work and feeding of Bob and Doug Matheson, Edmonton swimmers, and holders of Alberta provincial aquatic titles. During his many years of service as a coach, Bob and Doug have won another award in this capacity for nearly every club on the Lower Mainland. His first competing proteges was Bob Grainger, who later became famous as track coach of Percy Williams, Canada's Olympic winner at the Olympic Games. . . . Colmer Ross, all-round British Columbia swimming champion and the first Mainlander to beat the hitherto invincible Victoria aquatic ace, Angus McKinnon, many years ago, was also a protege of Cox. . . . James Bay gutted stick artists appear to be priming themselves for the post-season play-offs soon to get under way, judging by their display Tuesday evening against the Alerts.

Bob and Doug, the most improved stickhandlers in the senior circuit, His "snaker" shot to the corner of the goal has been giving the net custodians plenty of trouble. —S.T.

Chain Letter Schemes

Patriotic motives notwithstanding, the circulation of chain letters as a means of stimulating the purchase of war savings stamps is entirely unofficial and is frowned upon in official quarters. As a matter of fact, the chains are illegal under the postal laws, ready, according to The Financial Post, forty chains have been broken by postal authorities by extracting letters from the mail. Not only do chain letters offer opportunities for fraud but frequently they are participating through patriotic inspiration over-look the purpose of war savings stamp chains by purchasing stamps from other individuals in making their contribution, thus adding nothing to the public treasury.—H.C.M.

REFUGEES RETURNING

VICHY, France, Aug. 21 (AP).—Approximately 800,000 refugees and more than 1,000,000 demobilized soldiers were returned to their homes in the German-occupied and unoccupied zones of France prior to August 10. Government officials said nearly all refugees would be returned before winter.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of August 22, 1890)

Operations Commenced—The excavations for the proposed new building of the Dominion Hotel are completed, and times nearly in readiness for the commencement of building operations. It will make the beginning of a different class of building on that portion of Yates Street. A building of three stories and a fifty-foot frontage will look well just in that spot.

New Buildings—Robert Grant is busy personally supervising the erection of two cottages and two houses on Bell Street, near Cook Street. Due attention is being paid to the new foundations, which the owner is bound to make solid and substantial. Mr. Douglas's mansion close by is rapidly attaining substantial proportions, and when finished, will be an ornament to the city.

Over Ten Millions—At the City Council's last meeting, Mr. Northcott, city assessor, submitted a statement of the assessed value of Victoria property at $9,372,094 for the present year, as against $8,948,903 for 1889. The exemptions last year for church and city property reached $894,000, but this year they will reach about $840,000, as some property that was free last year becomes assessable this year, so that the total valuation, approximately, will reach $10,212,094.

CORPS TEACHES

MEN FIRST AID

R.C.A.M.C. Ambulance Unit Responsible for Health Of Troops

Behind the impressive and hard-hitting front of Canada's fighting machine are the many supporting units, without which the army would not function; but these seldom come to the fore and bask in the light of public acclaim. Representative of such units is the Field Ambulance Corps, an arm of the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps, upon which depends the health and well-being of the actively engaged fighting men.

Supporting the C.A.S.F. are the N.P.A.M. units, giving training to the men of the Dominion. With headquarters in Victoria, and with "A" Company stationed here and "B" Company in Duncan, the 13th Field Ambulance Corps, N.P.A.M., R.C.A.M.C., under the command of Lt.-Col. G. C. Kenning, is drilling two hours nightly, two nights each week, training the men in the services required of this unit.

DIVISIONAL UNIT

The corps, which on active service is a divisional unit, is the first line of medical service in the field. Upon this unit rests the responsibility of the evacuation of the wounded, the preservation of the health of the men on service, and the treatment of injuries.

The training of the corps of the majority of the officers are accredited medical men in civilian life, consists of a minimum elementary squad drill and a maximum of instruction in first aid and stretcher-bearing.

Indicative of the popularity of the unit, which has a total strength of 190 officers and other ranks, the 13th Field Ambulance Corps began recruiting on July 22 and reached its full strength on August 6. "B" Company at Duncan was filled shortly after recruiting was opened.

In the Field Ambulance unit are pharmacists, office managers, drugists and professional men, and although they have been drilling for only a little over two weeks, they do credit to the training given them to date.

Initial Training Parade Held by Searchlight Unit

Fifth non-permanent active militia unit to be mobilized in Victoria, the 1st Searchlight Battery, R.C.A., held its initial drill parade in the Woolen Mill Building, Dallas Road and Montreal Street, last night.

Recruiting for the unit began last week, and there are still vacancies for between thirty and forty men who are mechanically inclined, spokesmen for the unit said yesterday. At full strength the battery will have 250 men, in three troops, two of which are located in Vancouver and the third in Victoria. Men wishing to join the battery will be enlisted by Captain A. A. Ransom, R.C.A., at the Woolen Mill. The unit will take camp training at Nanaimo next month, in two groups.

Best Friend of British Columbia Is the "Thirty-Day Tourist"

VANCOUVER, Aug. 21.—British Columbia's best friend is its "thirty-day tourist," N. R. DesBrisay, assistant passenger traffic manager, Canadian Pacific Railway, stated here today on his arrival from a fortnightly tour which has taken him from Fort William, Ont., to Vancouver.

"This summer," said the rail official, who for several years until 1930 was general passenger agent at Vancouver, "travel to the Pacific Coast from the Prairie Provinces has been in record-breaking proportions. Low-fare excursions, which in former years we offered on a fortnightly basis, this summer have been on a weekly basis from Prairie points to the Coast, and the result has been phenomenal." These "thirty-day tourists," Mr. DesBrisay pointed out, are holiday-makers who want to spend that much time on the Coast. They are not merely "through tourists," who spend a few days in British Columbia en route to other places.

Travel throughout Western Canada this summer has changed, the rail official stated, chiefly because the war is making Canadians see their own country now. Riding Mountain National Park, north of Winnipeg, on a recent week-end had to accommodate 6,500 "under canvas" because of the crowd, and Prince Albert National Park, as well as Canada's national parks in the Rockies, has been host to unprecedented numbers of Western Canadians this season, he said.

"Last winter, because of the war, many Westerners, who ordinarily wintered in California, instead visited the Coast and Vancouver Island," Mr. DesBrisay said, "and it is safe to say that this movement will be as heavy as, if not heavier than, last year."

Descendants of Whaling Skipper Who Rescued Castaways Return Home

VANCOUVER, Aug. 21 (CP).—Three members of a New England seafaring family arrived here today from Japan, where they were honored guests of the Japanese Government—all because their whaling skipper ancestor 100 years ago rescued five Japanese fishermen from a Pacific islet where they had been cast away.

They were W. D. Whitfield, twenty-six-year-old grandson of Captain William H. Whitfield, who rescued the Japanese castaways; his mother, Mrs. T. W. Whitfield, and Mrs. A. W. Oney, daughter of a sister of Captain Whitfield. All are from Fairhaven, Mass.

Their trip capped a 100-year-old American-Japanese link, begun in 1941, when Captain Whitfield put in at a remote islet in the Pacific with his whaling vessel and found five Japanese fishermen who had been wrecked six months before.

One of them, young Manjiro Nakahama, he took home with him to Massachusetts. In 1851 the boy returned to Japan.

When the first Japanese warship put into San Francisco in 1860, Manjiro Nakahama was aboard as an interpreter.

He had been sent back to the United States to better relations between the two countries. Subsequently he rose in the Japanese Government service as a liaison officer between the Government and other nations.

NUMEROUS HONORS
To mark the part that the Fairhaven family played in strengthening ties between Japan and the United States, the Japanese Government has bestowed numerous honors upon members of the family.

This year, on the 100th anniversary of the rescue of the five Japanese, according to the Japanese calendar, the three were invited by the Oriental Cultural Society, on behalf of the Japanese Government, to visit Japan, at the expense of the Japanese Government.

Leaving New York on June 1, they spent six weeks in Japan, Manchuria and Korea, meeting Kiyoshi Nakahama, grandson of the boy whom their ancestor had saved.

"We have a lot to thank Great-Grandfather Whitfield for," Whitfield said. "The Japanese apparently remember him, and they're still grateful. They're very grateful people, you know."

The three will arrive in Seattle tomorrow, en route home.

Excursion Among Gulf Islands Is Well Patronized

Seven hundred excursionists were aboard the Ss. Princess Alice when she left the Belleville Street docks of Canadian Pacific Steamships at 2 p.m. yesterday for a cruise of Gulf Island waters. The Alice returned to her dock shortly after 8 o'clock.

Today the Princess Alice will make an all-day trip to Vancouver, leaving the local dock at 8:30 a.m. It is expected that a large number of Victorians will take advantage of the excursion fare to make the trip. The Alice will sail from the Mainland port on the return trip at 4 p.m.

How to Overcome Piles
And Rectal Soreness

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the matter. Run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, requires prompt and proper treatment. It should be treated at once. For this purpose, use Modern Pharmacy or Cunningham's Drug Store, or any druggist, a package of Hemoroid and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hemoroid is highly recommended, is easy to use, and it seems the best of all for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use, may be had at such a reasonable cost.

U.S. War Department Awards Large Sum for Turning Out Air Pilots and Mechanics

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP).—The United States War Department awarded $10,883,248 in contracts for the training of flyers and mechanics today and in so doing disclosed it had doubled the number of civilian schools which would give primary flight training to army air pilots.

Representing a continuation and extension of the existing school programme, the contracts were the first awarded under plans to step up pilot training to 7,000 men a year. Additional contracts also are being negotiated.

Under the current programme, an estimated 3,000 pilots who took their initial ten weeks of instruction in nine civilian schools are scheduled to be graduated by September 28.

Intermediate Musical Arts Give Concert

The Intermediate group of the Musical Arts Society took another concert party to the military hut at Esquimalt on Tuesday evening. The young people had an enthusiastic reception from an audience that packed the hall, a special favorite being little six-year-old Murray McIntosh, whose performance of Highland dances and the sailors' hornpipe was warmly applauded.

Bowel Complaints of Children

During the hot summer and early fall months most children, and especially those teething, are subject to diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cholera infantum and other bowel complaints. Every mother should keep a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Raspberry in the home as a protection against sudden attacks of these troubles.

Don't experiment with new and untried remedies. Consider your child's health. Get "Dr. Fowler's."

FOSTER HOMES ARE PLENTIFUL

F. E. Winslow Back From Overseas Children Committee Meetings

"There is no doubt whatever about the eagerness of Canada to welcome children from the Old Land, and already about 50,000 foster homes have been offered," reports F. E. Winslow, who has returned from Ottawa after attending the sessions of the National Advisory Committee for Children from Overseas.

Mr. Winslow and W. C. Woodward, of Vancouver, constitute the British Columbia representatives of the committee. Mr. Winslow made the trip by airplane, being away from Victoria only four days, two of which he spent in Ottawa.

Every phase of the question was thoroughly reviewed, he stated. The Government, fully apprised of a large number of children, but the extent of the movement from the Old Land would depend largely on the arrangements made between England and Canada. The Provincial Governments in each case would represent the Dominion Government in the respective provinces throughout Canada in supervising the children, and there would be a sub-committee to act between the province and the children's aid societies, which are to have actual contact with the boys and girls.

CAMPAIN FOR FUNDS
One of the questions raised by the Ottawa press during the sessions of the committee concerned a campaign for funds. Mr. Winslow stated that any funds received would be used to meet emergency expenses which might arise in connection with the care of the children.

"The foster homes quite clearly understand the conditions under which they accept the children. In other words, they know that they must assume almost entire responsibility for the child's support, owing to the Government regulation limiting to £10 the amount of money that may be sent out of England with any person leaving there at the present time," it was noted. This regulation was so strict that it must be obvious to anyone that there was no class favoritism. Many children had already come to Canada to stay with relatives or friends. While monetary regulations applied to them, they did not come under the committee plan.

Another point discussed was foster-home inspection. Some foster homes had objected to this, but the committee felt that the difficulties would be removed when families realized that inspection was for their own protection as much as for the child's. In the last analysis the Government would be the responsible party in event of the child's illness or any difficulty arising as the result of intractability or maladjustment of the child to its new home. In such event the Government would have to find a new home.

GOOD CO-OPERATION
The Dominion Government had found the different provinces very anxious to co-operate through their welfare departments. Dr. George Davidson, of the British Columbia Provincial Welfare Department, had been loaned to the Dominion Government in connection with the organization of the general plan for reception and distribution of the children from overseas. The committee was fortunate in having as chairman Dr. R. C. Wallace, principal of Queen's University, Kingston. Also present at the recent Ottawa meeting was Sir Gerald Campbell, British high commissioner in Canada, and Keith Johnson, who was sent out by the British Government as its representative. Every province in the Dominion was represented.

"Although our meeting decided that no appeal for funds would be made until we knew more definitely how many children would be coming, we have already received several handsome donations and will always welcome more," Mr. Winslow said. Such donations might be sent to the Treasurer of the National Advisory Committee for Children from Overseas, Ottawa.

It was clearly brought out that children were not being sent from England through fear, but because many of the parents were engaged with wartime duties and could give these services much more wholeheartedly if they did not have to divide their time between home and these other responsibilities.

The knowledge that their children were in good homes and safe hands would mean release of new energy for wartime services.

The committee plans to meet three or four times a year, but in the meantime a small executive in the East has been appointed to carry on.

Other officers elected were: Honorary president, T. Daniels, New Westminster, vice-president, Rev. E. Shavers, Victoria, secretary-treasurer, Rev. Ada Garrard, Shawinigan. The new board includes Mr. Daniels, Rev. Walter Holder, Victoria, and J. Duncan and Mrs. W. Benthams, Nanaimo.

Reports from various churches were given, and discussions held on the war, and educational and library work being done. The national convention will be held at Hamilton, Ont., on October 26, and the next provincial conference at Puffin Harbor in August, 1941.

FEAR EXTENSION OF OCCUPATION

British Long-Range Bombings Add to Troubles of Petain Government

CHANCY, Switzerland, Aug. 21 (AP)—Britain's long-range bombing flights against industrial cities of Northern Italy and Southern Germany war industries are increasing the Petain Government's fear that Germany and Italy will extend their occupation over a wider area of France, border reports said today.

Already the Germans have established airplane bases at the western slope of the Vosges and Jura Mountains in an effort to intercept bombers.

French now fear that British flights across the area still unoccupied by German soldiers will lead the Italians to demand air bases at Marseille and in the Rhone Valley, and the Germans to extend their control to provide air bases south of the Loire River.

TROUBLES MOUNTING
The Petain Government's troubles are mounting because of the division of France into two zones. Daily expenditures are greater than during French belligerence.

While in the North local authorities work in daily contact with the Germans, who are anxious to keep the administration running smoothly, in the South the Petain Government is struggling with increasingly serious transportation and supply difficulties.

The German radio said in a dispatch from Vichy last night that all railroad connections between the two zones have been closed temporarily and transportation of Belgian and French refugees to their homes has been held up.

EGYPT READY IF ATTACKED

Air Force on August 19 made simultaneous offensive reconnaissance flights on Italian airdromes in Ethiopia and Italian Somaliland, bomb falling near the wireless station of Mekele, while buildings were damaged at Neghelli.

"The Caproni aircraft grounds at Yavello were hit and three direct hits were made on a storehouse at Atfadu.

Yesterday our bombers attacked the airdrome and the railway station at Dire Dawa. All bombs fell in the target area. There was a direct hit on a hangar. One of our aircraft failed to return.

"An attack was made on the Dessie airdrome, bombs hitting buildings in the compound. At Kussala our bombers carried out a low-level attack, railway buildings and the track being hit.

"French pilots operating with the R.A.F. made extensive reconnaissance flights over British Somaliland. Places visited included Berber, Odweina, Hargeisa and Zella. Yesterday ten enemy bombers, escorted by twenty fighters, raided Malta. Our fighters went up and dispersed the enemy."

ESCAPED NAZIS AT LARGE YET

The camp by German agents and other prisoners, and that the careful planning which resulted in his escape was done for a definite purpose other than the gaining of one prisoner's freedom.

The escape tunnel was more than 100 feet long and timbered. Police said it probably took two months to build.

Keche was described by the prison camp doctor as a "universally popular" type. He speaks almost faultless English, and police said the escape may be part of a plan to put him in a position where he can gain information valuable to the enemy.

The bloodhounds were sent on the trail of the prisoner today.

MUST TURN IN ENGLISH NOTES

Canadian Holders Have Six Days to Exchange for Dollar Currency

OTTAWA, Aug. 21 (CP)—Canadian holders of Bank of England notes will have until August 27 to change those notes into Canadian dollars, under a ruling by the British Treasury, announced in London today.

A ban on the importation of Bank of England notes into the United Kingdom announced there, will not become effective in Canada for six days, to accommodate Canadians. Holders in neutral countries are being given similar consideration.

This ban, designed to prevent Germany realizing on Bank of England notes seized in occupied European territory, will actually have little effect here, it is stated. Bank of England notes do not enter commerce to any degree, drafts being the common medium. They are found only occasionally in trade, as a result of travel. Consequently there is normally an "extremely small amount" of such notes in Canada.

NOT A HINDRANCE
No increased difficulty will be experienced by persons desiring to transmit funds to sterling countries, as a result of the ban. Under present conditions, a permit from the Foreign Exchange Control Board must be obtained in any case. The transmitter may then send a draft out of this country, which safeguards the funds in transit, whereas bank notes might be permanently lost or destroyed on route.

Officials here believe the British Treasury ruling is traceable to considerable hoarding of Bank of England notes throughout the European continent in recent years as the threat of war steadily increased. It is possible the German forces have compelled hoarders to dispose of these notes, with the result that Germany would realize on them unless Great Britain cleared Bank of England notes from ordinary channels.

IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Aug. 21 (AP)—The price of English bank notes today dropped about $2.15 for one pound sterling from $3.50, after an announcement London forbade import of currency.

Banking circles pointed out the restriction had no connection with the price of free or official sterling. Brokers in foreign money reported a deluge of offerings of English bank notes. Many forecast the price would break still further.

United States holders can deliver their English money to a local bank up to August 27, and the proceeds will be credited to a registered account. Free sterling, now is around $4.00, and official sterling is sold by New York banks at $4.04. Business at the free and official prices is done exclusively by cables and cheques.

GIBRALTAR, Aug. 21 (CP)—An official announcement today stated that enemy aircraft attacked this British fortress, twice during last night but that a small fire set by bombs was quickly extinguished. One plane was shot down.

The statement said: "During the night enemy aircraft bombed Gibraltar twice. In the first raid bombs were dropped into the sea but an incendiary bomb brought down into the sea off Europa Point."

"In the second raid bombs dropped on the Rock causing a small fire which was quickly brought under control, with slight damage and no casualties."

Since the outbreak of the war, bombs have been dropped on or near Gibraltar on four occasions, causing a few casualties and slight damage. This was the first aircraft shot down by Gibraltar's anti-aircraft guns. The last raid was on July 27.

Garden Party Had Generous Support Of Big Community

Esquimalt Red Cross Fete, Held Yesterday at Home Of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Pooley, Attracted Hundreds of Enthusiastic Visitors

THE spacious gardens of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Pooley's home, 1182 Old Esquimalt Road, now at the height of their mid-summer beauty, formed the setting for the highly successful fete held yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Esquimalt Red Cross Society. The fete added approximately $700 to the fund.

Convened by Miss Alice Pooley, the party was splendidly organized, providing a maximum of entertainment for the 400 patrons, and at the same time accomplishing its primary object of loosening purse strings on behalf of a patriotic cause. Through the various stalls and other attractions, it represented a real community effort, many of the local organizations taking charge of the different details and providing the personnel for that particular undertaking.

One of the most generally patronized and popular features was afternoon tea. This Mrs. Pooley personally convened, providing the tea and taking charge of the well-arranged service, assisted by Miss I. Allen and Mesdames J. Davies, S. D. McHaffie, Jones, L. Palmer, R. Tanner, S. Smart and W. J. Cobbett. In the same part of the gardens, which lent themselves perfectly to a convenient arrangement of stalls, were the table of cut flowers and fruit in charge of Mrs. Nelson Gibson, Mrs. Charles Watson, Mrs. Preston, Mrs. G. A. Henderson and Miss Agnew; and here, too, Mrs. Robert Fort refilled her tray of Colonial bouquets when necessary.

OTHER STALLS

Mrs. G. C. Jones had charge of the attractively arranged stall of home-made candy donated through the Mary Croft Esquimalt Chapter, I.O.E. The table of home cooking did a brisk business in charge of Mrs. G. Stinger and Mrs. T. Wallace, assisted by Mesdames J. Dennison, H. Hughes and N. Renick. Mrs. E. V. Finland had a generously laden table of novelty jewelry, and a miscellaneous stall in charge of Esquimalt Community Club had, as saleswomen, Mesdames R. McVie, L. Howe, E. McBeath, V. Draper and W. Aldridge. One of the special prizes on this table was a needlework picture worked and presented by Mrs. B. S. Hartley.

Great interest centred in the prize table in charge of Mesdames J. Kennedy and E. Durling. A bronze and ebony French clock donated by some Sidney well-wishers, was in charge of Mrs. Fitzherbert Bullen, who also had the tickets for a Shien-

It was designed by Travis Burton, at Twentieth Century-Fox for Brenda Joyce to wear in her newest picture, "Public Dues No. 1," and accompanies a pictureque evening gown of metal cloth in shades of fuchsia and silver on black. Black lace gloves complete the outfit. The forecast of Hollywood's astute designers, whose guests must be right a year ahead of the mode, gains special significance with the eclipse of Paris as a style source.

Clubs-Societies

Daughters of St. George

Princess Patricia Lodge 239 held a social evening in the K of C. Hall recently. The evening was arranged by the past president, and owing to illness of the pianist, Mrs. Cooper played the piano. The following past-presidents held the offices for the evening: Mrs. Mason, president; Mrs. Restall, vice-president; Mrs. Christie, past president; Mrs. Tooby, chaplain; Mrs. Morrish, recorder; Mrs. Wright, first conductor; Mrs. Sparkes, second conductor; Mrs. Burke, treasurer; Mrs. Bendie, financial secretary; Mrs. Duncan, inside guard; Mrs. Carter, outside guard. At the close of the meeting a bingo game was played, and refreshments were served by Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Morrish and Mrs. Restall. All arrangements have been completed for the picnic to be held at the home of Mrs. Quinn at the Laurion for the Sister Lodge 83 and Princess Patricia Lodge on Friday, all to meet at the C and C taxi office, at 11 a.m., where transportation will be supplied by Mrs. Quinn. Mrs. E. Herring is convenor. Tea, coffee, milk and sugar will be supplied free of charge. This picnic is in celebration of the forty years that Mrs. Quinn has been a member of the Daughters of St. George. All members having tombola tickets were asked to bring them to the next meeting, as the prizes will be awarded then.

OTHER ATTRACTIONS

The Victoria Boys' Band gave a cheerful welcome to visitors, under Bandmaster Bowles' direction. G. A. Dyson, chairman of the band committee, attended.

In a special pavilion, Mrs. J. Quinn, Mrs. M. A. Sherwood and Mrs. George Redhead operated bingo; and Hil Hilder and Musson, in charge of Dimpie and Robinson, drew many patrons.

Housed in its own corral was "Hitler's Last Appeal to Reason," the famous propaganda leaflet dropped by Nazi airmen over England recently. This proved a profitable curiosity both on its own account, and for the secondary reason that it left London on Tuesday, August 13, in response to a cable request from Mr. Pooley and arrived here on Friday morning, August 16. Shown in connection with the leaflet was the envelope in which it arrived, with the slogan "Who has command of the air?" E. S. Blair had charge of this exhibit.

Ice cream and soft drinks were sold in the same section of the grounds by the Esquimalt Catholic Women's League, represented by Mesdames Clifford Allan, P. Comerford, J. T. Lambert, C. Ward, and Misses Comerford, Malloy and MacDonald. Arthur Knowles had a dart alley; the Esquimalt Women's Institute, Mrs. N. Kelly and Mrs. A. Messop conducted a raffle; Mrs. Charles Wilson, Mrs. H. F. Crow and Miss Marjorie Todd the putting games; and Mrs. Humphrey Baines and Miss Mabel Mayhew the fortune telling.

Those in charge of the gate were Misses Kate and Mae Fraser, Mrs. Schramm, Mrs. Wardour, Mrs. Barclay, Mrs. Purvis and Mrs. Malloy. Among the special guests were Mrs. E. W. Hamber, who was accompanied by Mrs. J. Sutherland Brown; and Brig-General J. G. Auldin, president of the Victoria Red Cross Society.

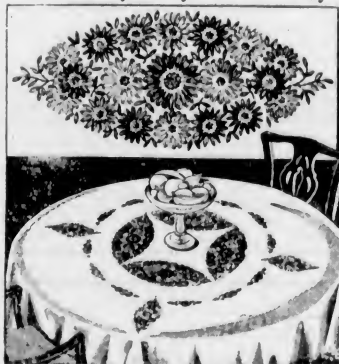

R.C.O.C. Auxiliary

The regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the R.C.O.C. will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Nelson Gibson, 1382 Esquimalt Road, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A special invitation is extended to all wives and mothers of members of the corps.

SMITH-STEWART

A marriage was solemnized by Mr. H. L. Hopkins in Oaklands Gospel Hall, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, between Mary, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Stewart, 1551 Clawthorpe Avenue, and Mr. John Charles Smith, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Smith, Portland, Ore. Baskets of pink, mauve and white gladioli made a background for the ceremony, and posies of roses tied with tulle marked the guest pews. Miss Marjorie Barnes played the wedding music, and as the registrar was being signed Miss Ora Jealous sang "O Perfect Love." The hymns "Lord Jesus Who Didst Once Appear" and "Lord Jesus Let This Favor Rest" were sung during the service by the congregation.

The bride was given away by her father, and wore a Princess gown of white tulle with a long train and a matching jacket with long pointed sleeves. Her veil of French "illusion" was caught on the top of her head by a gardenia, and she carried a sheaf bouquet of white gladioli, carnations and fern. Miss Grace McKerracher, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor in a floor-length bustle-style frock of pastel green tulle with a shirred short-sleeved bodice and a wide girdle. The large matching hat had a crown of violets, and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations and mauve scabious. Four-year-old Geraldine Smith, of Portland, niece of the bridegroom, was a witness. The bridegroom wore a white tulle suit with a long pink net with puff sleeves, and a bandeau of flowers in her hair. She carried a Colonial posy. Mr. Alex Smith supported his brother, and the ushers were Mr. David Stewart, brother of the bride, and Mr. Alex McKerracher, their cousin.

The reception was held at the Oakbay Beach Hotel, during which the bride couple stood before a fireplace banked with pink and white gladioli and ferns in a charming floral setting. Before the bride cut the cake, the toast was proposed by Mr. A. Iung. Mrs. Stewart wore a navy blue crepe gown with lace revers and cuffs, a matching hat and accessories, and the bridegroom's mother was in a rose mist dress with navy blue accessories. They both wore corsage bouquets of roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith left during the afternoon by plane for Vancouver, en route to Portland, where they will make their home. Of interest to many people here is the following notice from an Old Country paper of recent date. The bride, who was born in Parkville and educated at Tolmie School, is the daughter of Mrs. McAdoo, of County Tyrone, Ireland, and the late Mr. Lyndhurst McAdoo, of Parkville and Calumet Avenue, Sanath.

"The marriage has taken place at St. John's Church, Northwood, Middlesex, of Mr. Scott Heatherington, of the headquarters staff of the Ministry of Labor, elder son of Principal Sir Hector and Lady Heatherington, Glasgow, and Miss Patricia McAdoo, of Newton-on-Ore, County Tyrone. The ceremony was performed by Rev. James Rae, B.D., assisted by Rev. A. C. Craig, D.D., formerly chaplain of the University of Glasgow. The bride who was attended by her sister, Miss Mona McAdoo, was given away by Mr. F. W. McAdoo, director-general of the B.C.C. formerly vice-chancellor of Queen's University, Belfast. The groomsmen was Mr. David Phyllick, of the Nigerian Civil Service, a former Oxford golf blue. Mothers Join in Air Force Gift

LONDON, Aug. 21 (CP).—Mothers all over the United Kingdom are responding to the appeal of Mrs. V. F. Gower, mother of two men serving in the forces, who wants to present the Royal Air Force with a "mothers' token of appreciation." The squadron, to cost £56,000 ($249,000), will be purchased through the Empire Mothers' Hurricane Fund and will be presented in behalf of mothers of men serving in the R.A.F.

"We women," said Mrs. Gower in launching her appeal, "have provided the men; now we must provide them with planes."

Mothers, grandmothers, godmothers, adopted mothers, stepmothers or mothers-in-law are asked to contribute to the fund, which already is off to a good start. It is hoped to have the first unit of the "mothers' squadron" available by September 3, said Mrs. Gower, whose younger son, Pilot Officer Desmond Gower, has been missing for thirteen weeks.

ENGAGING NEW SHIRTWAISTER

By MARIAN MARTIN

Pattern 9395

LIVES there a fashion-wise woman who doesn't own at least one shirtwaister for summer? Marian Martin presents her smart version of this popular style in Pattern 9395. The softly bloused, yoked bodice is neatly darted-in above the front waist. You'll love the youthful shape of the matching or contrasting collar, with perhaps a bright ribbon bow trim. Your sleeves may be short or straight or in even shorter Summer sleevelets. The double skirt panel is made especially striking with gayly deceptive pocket flaps on either side. Glove-fitting at sleeves, collar and pockets would finish off the frock with a flourish!

Pattern 9395 may be ordered only in misses and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards 35-inch fabric.

Send twenty cents in coins for this Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your size, name, address and style number.

Send your order to The Daily Colonist, Pattern Department, Broad Street, Victoria, B.C.

Hair Styles Must Conform to Masks

LONDON, Aug. 21.—"So you're doing your hair up differently, eh? Well, make sure your gas mask fits over those curls around the cheeks and forehead."

This is the warning given by officials of the A.R.P., whose duties include the task of providing gas masks for citizens.

"We are by no means suggesting that women ought not to change their hair styles," an A.R.P. official said, "but we do suggest that, when they have had them changed, they should make certain that their gas masks still fit securely."

"After altering the hair it has often been found that the straps of the gas mask need readjustment. If this is not done, and the mask is required in the case of an air raid, it will leak. This may have serious consequences to the wearer."

Salmon Derby Will Have Large Entry; Many Fine Awards

VICTORIA-SANICH Inlet Anglers' Association history—making international Derby, Sunday, at Brentwood, promises to attract the largest entry since the inauguration, many years ago, of fishing competitions here. The major award in the event will be a brand new automobile and the Jokers' international trophy. Other handsome prizes will go to lucky anglers, while every Derby entrant will have a chance of winning the consolation award, a refrigerator donated by Horace Beer, of the Poodle Dog Cafe, and George "Joker" Patton. Bill Rowe, secretary of the Victoria-Sanich Inlet Anglers' Association, sponsors of the monster salmon Derby, reports that the membership is close to 800, and will probably pass that mark by competition starting time Sunday morning. In addition to the largest local entry, a number of anglers will be here from Port Angeles, with Dr. Cecil Hay, a former Victorian, heading the party. The competition will open at 6 o'clock in the morning, and will close twelve hours later. Official weighing-in stations will be set up at Stacey's at Goldstream, and The Anchorage at Brentwood. Prizes now on display in the windows of the Poodle Dog Cafe, Yates Street, are attracting considerable interest.

TOP-FLIGHT CAST AT PLAZA TODAY

"Wagons Westward" Stars Chester Morris, Anita Louise, Buck Jones and Others

High ranking among the candidates to fill the late Will Rogers' shoes is George "Gabby" Hayes, the salty, crusty but witty, warmly human old gentleman who is featured by Republic frequently and is being seen currently in "Wagons Westward," which opens today at the Plaza Theatre with a top flight cast including Chester Morris, Anita Louise, Buck Jones, Olan Munson, Guinn Williams and Douglas Fowley.

Hayes' penetrating, kindly humor and genial philosophy do not begin and end in front of the camera. He is well loved by everyone on the Republic lot, as a dispenser of wit and sound advice.

Frank Yaconelli, Who Appears in "Dr. Cyclops," Will Be Rather Art Than Produce

One of the few men in filmdom who would rather act in pictures than produce them plays one of the eight roles in "Dr. Cyclops," Paramount's Technicolor thriller opening tonight at the Oak Bay Theatre. He is Frank Yaconelli, who plays a Peruvian mountaineer in support of Albert Dekker, Thomas Coley, Janice Logan and Charles Hallen.

Yaconelli, whose experience is as varied as that of any man in Hollywood, produced pictures in his own studio back in the years just before talkies came in. He has canceled cheques from such stars of past years as Maurice Costello and Jean Arthur as mementoes of the period.

ADVENTURE TALE ON CADET SCREEN

"Swiss Family Robinson" Features Freddie Bartholomew and Thomas Mitchell

The manner in which a wealthy family carves out its own destiny against the vicious forces of Nature when marooned on an uninhabited island, provides suspense-laden adventure in RKO-Radio's dramatic presentation of "Swiss Family Robinson," which opens today at the Cadet Theatre.

Inspector Urges Gun Registrants To Have Numbers
Detective Inspector J. H. Rogers yesterday urged all city residents registering rifles and shotguns at the police station to submit serial numbers and full descriptions of the weapons. Shotguns and rifles must not be brought to the station. Residents of Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt must register their weapons at the police stations in those municipalities.

ROY ROGERS CAST AS BUFFALO BILL

Singing, Riding, Fighting Star in New Streamlined Western Opening at Rio

A new streamlined Western will make its appearance at the Rio Theatre today. Republic Studios, which are past masters in the art of modernizing Westerns, present their ingratiating and altogether charming Roy Rogers in an exciting action drama called "Young Buffalo Bill."

With a well-contrived plot, direction at a fast and skillful tempo, and photography on a par with that of much more ambitious productions, "Young Buffalo Bill" has everything to recommend it to discerning local audiences.

Roy Rogers, who sings as well as rides and makes love as well as fights, portrays the intrepid frontiersman, Buffalo Bill Cody.

Atlas With Merle Oberon Theatre and George Brent co-starred, and Pal O'Brien, Geraldine Fitzgerald, Binnie Barnes and Frank McHugh, heading the supporting cast, "Till We Meet Again," which ends today at the Atlas, offers one of the most brilliant star line-ups of the new film season.

Capitol Nelson Eddy and Jeanette MacDonald sang their way into the hearts of audiences of the Capitol Theatre this week during the performances of their spectacular new screen opera, "New Moon."

HAS HAD VARIED THEATRE CAREER

Robert Burton, who will be seen at the Royal Theatre on Saturday evening, August 31, with Gertrude Lawrence in "Skylark," has been nearly all things to the theatre. The last eleven years he has been associated with John Golden, the producer who presented Miss Lawrence in "Susan and God" and who is now offering the distinguished English star in "Skylark." During this time he assisted in the production of five of Gertrude's most successful plays. "Let Us Be Gay," "The Husbands of Henry," "Awaken," "When Ladies Meet" and "Susan and God." He was with the latter during the entire time that Miss Lawrence was the star.

Burton has also been a manager and director, and has given an excellent account of himself as an actor. Among his most outstanding performances are as a lumberjack in the present role in "Skylark," which he has played ever since the first performance more than a year ago and with Frank Craven in "Salt Water" and with Roland Young in "A Touch of Brimstone." Mr. Golden claims he is one of the most valuable men in the theatre.

BACON EVENT SET FRIDAY

Annual Bowling Match at Burnside Greens—Women Players Hold Meet

The annual bacon event will be staged on the greens of the Burnside Bowling Club tomorrow evening. Alderman R. A. C. Dwyer, assisted by seven of the leading bowlers in the city and district, will endeavor to take the "bacon" away from the thirty-two Burnside bowlers who will defend their right to it.

Interest in the "Bacon" event is devoted annually to the club since 1929. The match between the sixty-four players will start at 7 o'clock. During the week the Greater Victoria Ladies' Association held its half-day tournament on the Victoria greens with seventy-eight taking part in the event. After the match, Mrs. D. McLeod, the president, introduced Mrs. R. P. Butchart, who then presented the Butchart Rose Bowl to Mrs. J. H. McConnell, president of the Victoria Club.

Mrs. Todd Miss Dobson, Mrs. Myers and Mrs. Fox as skip won the half-day tournament, while second were Mrs. Butterfield, Mrs. Douglas and Mrs. A. W. Stewart, and third place went to Mrs. Clyde Miss Lloyd, Mrs. Terry and Mrs. Peattie. Only three players comprised the runner-up team.

LADYSMITH PLAYS HERE

Up-Island Nine Meets Stevedores in Vancouver Island Final Tonight

Ladysmith Wigwags, Up-Island softballers, stand between Manager Jim Lackie's Victoria Longshoremen and their first Vancouver Island championship. But the stevedores feel confident of holding this last obstacle in their title chase when the two clubs meet this evening at Royal Athletic Park in the second game of the best-of-three series. The fixture is scheduled for 5:45 o'clock.

Freight jugglers journeyed over the famous Malahat, Sunday, and dropped in on the Wigwags in their own ball yard, with the result that the Victoria club finished on the long end of a 9-4 score. Lanky Vic Dale, hard-hitting centrefielder, was the batting sensation, driving in six of the Longshoremen's runs.

Big Ray Byers, ace right-hander, will parade to the mound tonight for the locals, and if he is in form Ladysmith batters are going to be in for plenty of trouble. Rated as one of the best "big" hitters in the city, Byers should be able to hold the Wigwags in check.

Ladysmith, according to reports, will be at full strength for the crucial fixture, and feel they can turn the tables on the stevedores. No announcement of the starting lineup for the Up-Islanders has been received, but those closely associated with the Ladysmith club figure that Stillin will get the call.

UNITS GO UNDER
Manager Wally Yeaman's Units, finalists in the Senior "A" play-downs in the women's softball league, will meet an unexpected 13-3 reverse at the hands of Hunt's Garage, Sidney twiler, scored two markers in the "B" series, last night at Sid. The garage squad did some heavy clouting in the third and fifth frames, scoring nine runs on those two sessions. Units, finding trouble getting to the offerings of Marshall, Sidney twiler, scored two markers in the third and one in the fifth.

Score by innings—
Units..... 002 010 0—3
Hunt's Garage..... 014 251 x—13
Batteries: Moore, Burrows (5) and Hogue; Marshall and Jones.

WINS BY DEFAULT

Chinese Recreation Club, "D" Section softball nine, won by default from the Victoria Machinery Dept. when the latter squad failed to field a team. The clubs were billed to meet in the inter-sectional play-offs for the city championship.

I'LL WAIT FOR YOU

By MARGARET GORMAN NICHOLS

(Copyright, 1940, by Margaret Gorman Nichols)

CHAPTER IV

"Darling, there are few men who haven't had love affairs before they marry. Few girls, too, for that matter."

"It wasn't a love affair. You don't mind then?"

"Not in the least. Let's go. It's a lovely night."

Often at night they rode with the windshield open, the wind whipping their cheeks and playing wildly through Carol's abandoned hair, their thoughts so completely in unison, she had thought, that conversation was unnecessary. But tonight they made an effort to be talkative so that the shadow of Edwina would not come between them again.

"Who is Norman Alexander?" Alan asked finally.

"I'm not sure, but I think he's a playboy in the last stage of reformation. He's gay and reckless and looks expensive. He's taking someone named Dick Fenton's house for the summer out in the hills."

"Oh, yes, Dick. I used to know him. He's been very successful in New York." Turning his head, he smiled at her. "I'll bet Norman Alexander has never seen anyone like you."

"Flatterer! Girls are dime a dozen in New York, darling. Gorgeous girls. He looks as if he's played the field. I'm thirsty. I think an exciting chocolate soda would be just the thing."

Alan laughed his deep sober laugh. "You're the most expensive girl I've ever had."

At a little before midnight he left her and when she went inside, she found her father dozing in the chair beside the radio.

"Hello, dear, I was waiting for you."

"How was the bridge game?" "Still about even. Amazing way the cards run." Sitting up, he reached for a cigarette and looked at her questioningly through the grey smoke. "Carol, Helen was at the scene of the accident today. She recognized Edwina Burke."

"I was going to tell you, I told Alan."

"Seems too bad she has to appear on the scene at this time. You're not jealous of her, are you?"

"Jealous? Oh, no! On the contrary, Alan never loved her, father. Her coming back doesn't affect us in the least. That's not true exactly. . . . It affects us in that Alan hates her so. I've never known anything like that. He seems to freeze when he hears her name. That spoils things for us momentarily. But it's nothing. It does seem strange, doesn't it, that today I held in my arms the girl I've thought about so much. I am curious about her. Curious, but not jealous. Aren't you tired? You've had quite a day. Let's go up. . . ."

In the largest private room of the Newton hospital, Edwina's black hair, spread fanlike on the white pillow, stirred. Her eyes, brown eyes set wide apart in a small, rather pointed gamine face, opened. She was not and no one had ever called her beautiful, though other and more engaging adjectives had been used to describe her face, which was vital and bold and defiant—and strangely honest. Amy Durfee, who knew her well, had once summed her up by saying, "Edwina is honest with everyone except herself." Her eyes could be mischievous and laughing, but they could also be moody brown lights in the olive-tinted face. Her nose was adequate, her mouth a vivid slash of crimson, which, when it smiled, revealed small white perfect teeth. Beneath the white sheet was a trim slender body which moved with swift grace.

She thought: I'm in a hospital. What hospital? Where? Try to think! Try to remember. . . . Am I hurt badly?

There were no bandages, but when she moved she ached and the pain in her head nearly blinded her. She closed her eyes again and when the door opened and she saw the tall, starched, white figure of Amy, she gave a short, throaty laugh.

"You, Amy! I know where I am now."

Amy placed her hand on Edwina's forehead. "How do you feel?" "Awful. Am I going to die?" "Not this time."

"The prodigal returns—or maybe the black sheep would be more appropriate. Amy, for a woman who never had any children of her own you have more bad brats than any woman I know. When may I go home? You know I can't stand hospitals and being quiet."

"You'll have to stand this one for a couple of days. We want to keep you under observation. Besides, you need a rest. You're all worn out, Edwina."

"You know everything, don't you, darling?" She laughed again, but there was little mirth in her laughter. "I sent you a card occasionally. I hope you got them. You were the one person I wanted to remember me."

"Cards from all over the world," Amy said, and she wondered why she was perhaps the only person in the world who had ever felt sorry for Edwina Burke, who had everything and who still had nothing. The swift passing of time astonished her. It had been five years since Edwina left Newton to travel to forget.
